Noted poet will read from her latest collection, Seasonal Works with Letters on Fire, recently longlisted for the 2013 National Book Award.

This event is free and books are available for purchase. Reception to follow.

“Linguistically, spatially, politically, emotionally, Brenda Hillman’s brilliant poems are some of the most thrilling poems we have . . . Each line, each poem, each book, extraordinarily fresh and original, is minted alive before our eyes.”

—Sharon Olds

This event is cosponsored by the College of Saint Benedict Literary Arts Institute and the English Department at Macalester College.
